A BILL

To establish a comprehensive United States strategy to address the national security threat posed by the People’s Republic of China’s control of nearly 2/3 of the global supply of critical minerals, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Quad Critical Minerals 5       Partnership Act”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7       Congress makes the following findings:

1           (1) The People’s Republic of China is the global
2 leader in mining, refining, and component manufac-
3 turing of critical minerals, producing approximately 4 85 percent of the world’s supply between 2011 and 5 2017.

6           (2) In 2019, the United States imported an es-
7 timated 80 percent of its critical minerals from the 8 People’s Republic of China.

9           (3) On March 26, 2014, the World Trade Orga-
10 nization ruled that the People’s Republic of China’s
11 export restraints on critical minerals violated its ob-
12 ligations under its protocol of accession to the World
13 Trade Organization, thereby harming United States
14 manufacturers and workers.

15           (4) The Chinese Communist Party has threat-
16 ened to leverage the People’s Republic of China’s 17 dominant position in the critical minerals market to 18 “strike back” at the United States.

19           (5) The Quadrilateral Security Dialogue is a 20 strategic security dialogue comprised of the United 21 States, Australia, Japan, and India that facilitates
22 multilateral cooperation in areas of shared interest
23 to advance a free and open Indo-Pacific region.

24           (6) The Quadrilateral Security Dialogue is an 25 effective partnership for reliable multilateral financ-

1 ing, development, and distribution of goods for glob-
2 al consumption, as evidenced by the Quad Vaccine
3 Partnership announced on March 12, 2021.

4 SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

5 It is the sense of Congress that—

6 (1) the People’s Republic of China’s dominant
7 share of the global critical minerals market is a
8 threat to the economic stability, well-being, and com-
9 petitiveness of key industries in the United States;

10 (2) the United States should reduce reliance on 11 the People’s Republic of China for critical minerals 12 through—

13 (A) strategic investments in development
14 projects, production technologies, and refining 15 facilities in the United States; or

16 (B) in partnership with strategic allies of 17 the United States that are reliable trading part-
18 ners, including members of the Quadrilateral
19 Security Dialogue;

20 (3) the United States International Develop-
21 ment Finance Corporation should collaborate with 22 its counterpart entities in Japan, Australia, and 23 India to finance a more reliable and secure supply 24 chain of critical minerals; and

1           (4) the United States Trade Representative
2           should initiate multilateral talks among the coun-
3           tries of the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue to pro-
4           mote shared investment and development of critical

14          Security Dialogue in a concerted effort to make sig-
